

FRIENDS OF THE BURIAL GROUNDS

Do you have an interest in local history, nature, heritage, or simply want to help care for an important community space?

Biddulph Town Council has launched a Friends of Biddulph Burial Grounds volunteer group. The purpose of the group is to support, promote and enhance the burial grounds as a place of remembrance, heritage, biodiversity, reflection and community interest.

The group works in partnership with the Town Council to:

- Encourage community involvement and volunteering.
- Promote respect for the burial grounds and those interred there.
- Support the conservation of historic monuments, memorials and landscape features.
- Ensure biodiversity and environmental sustainability.
- Raise awareness of the historical, cultural and ecological significance of the burial grounds.
- Organise educational, heritage and community events.
- Assist with fundraising and grant applications where appropriate.
- Provide feedback and recommendations on the management and development of the burial grounds.

Membership is open to local residents, representatives of community organisations, historical and heritage groups, environmental and conservation groups, and individuals with an interest in the burial grounds.

Members are expected to support the aims and objectives of the group and act respectfully towards fellow members and the wider community.
